Welcome to the library!

The Lila D. Bunch Library is home to books, resources and more. Complete this scavenger hunt in order to familiarize yourself with everything it has to offer.

In the Lila D. Bunch Library

1. The library is home to thousands of books. Find one about Nashville and write the title and call number below, and tell us approximately where you found the book (in the middle of the first floor? Last shelf on the second floor?) Bonus! Find an ebook about Nashville and write the title. Double bonus! Describe how to get a book that’s located in the closed stacks. Need help? Check out Clue #1 on the video guide - the URL’s at the top of the page!

2. The library is home to so much more than books, though. Take the time to the first floor and check out the media collection - whether it’s a DVD or something in the music library. Write the name of something interesting below!

3. The library is a great place to study, no matter what kind of environment you need to focus. There are private study rooms, tables in the lobby, quiet study carrels in the stacks and more. Check them out and write down which one you think you’d use the most.

4. The library is lucky enough to also house some beautiful art in the Hart Gallery, the GIG, the Leu Gallery and even in the lobby. Write down a description (or draw!) the piece that stands out the most to you.
5. Feeling thirsty after all checking out all the different areas in the library? Head over to the vending machines - they’re in the lobby, tucked in the back left hand corner past the tables - and write down the name of your favorite drink.

6. Through the library, you have access to over 300 different databases for everything from journal articles, to images, to streaming video. Pick one you think is interesting and write the name of it below. Check out Clue #2 for a hint if you need it!

7. Getting started with research can be difficult, but the library tries to make it easier for you by providing Research Guides. Which research guide do you think you’ll use the most at Belmont? Write the name of it below. Clue #3 can help you out if you’re stuck.

8. Something is always happening at the library. Check out the events calendar on our website and write down the name and date of an upcoming event you find interesting.

9. Research is hard work, but the library is always here to help you. There are three different ways to get a librarian’s help on our website. Which one are you most likely to use? For a hint, you’ll want to check out Clue #4.
